--------------------------------	--

1. The use of the Library and/or its services may be denied for good cause. Any person or group of persons failing to comply with regulations governing the use of the Library premises may be disallowed further use of the same. Such causes include, but are not limited to, failure to return books or to pay penalties, destruction of Library property, disturbance of other patrons, or any other objectionable conduct on Library premises. Parents and minors should have a backup plan if minors are asked to leave the library grounds.
2. The Library offers spaces to accommodate quiet individual study, subdued conversation and group work or interactive learning and play. Visitors are expected to moderate their behaviors in a manner that respects the purpose of the space they are in or move to another location that better suits their activities.
3. Disruptive, threatening, dangerous behavior or language of any kind is not allowed. Disruptive behavior may include running, throwing, eating, loud or abusive talking, bullying, fighting, vandalism, inappropriate public displays of affection, interfering with the reasonable activities of other patrons, or any other behavior deemed inappropriate by Library staff.
4. Library users must comply with current Library Policies for health and safety protocols while on the Library campus.
5. Library users must make sure that their possessions are not in the way of others. Possessions, especially valuable items, should remain with their owners at all times. The Library is not responsible for lost or misplaced items. Any items left behind and unclaimed within 14 days will be disposed of, donated to a non-profit collection center or brought to the police.
6. Library users must wear personal attire appropriate for being in a public place.
7. With the exceptions of the staff room and approved spaces, no food or beverages, except water, are to be consumed on Library premises except by permission of the Library Director or during a prescheduled event.
